

To whom it may concern

My partner, Michael Jensen, and I are happy to supply the following testimonial for Ace Migration & Consultancy Services Pty Ltd. This company was instrumental in assisting us to obtain a visa for Mike, and allow us to be together in Australia.

I was referred to David da Costa, the company's principal director, in February 2003, through a mutual friend who worked at a CREEDA Business Centre in Canberra ACT. Ace Migration was temporarily located at CREEDA due to their office and home being destroyed in the Canberra bushfires of 18 January 2003.

Despite the trauma they had just experienced, David and his wife Jenny always exhibited a pleasant and professional attitude, during the many discussions we had regarding the issues involved in applying for the visa. Their professional attitude and concern was of great value to me personally, especially since I was feeling the strain of living apart from Michael (who had returned to the USA to remain in compliance with his visa conditions) and taking on the responsibility of organising everything from Australia.

Although Ace Migration moved their operations to Sydney in May 2003, their level of service to Michael and I never faltered; they stood by their policy of "Nothing is too much trouble for our valued clients" and were consistently available via the telephone, fax or the email. It makes such a difference when a professional takes the load off your shoulders and smooths out the potential rough spots.

My partner and I have no doubt of the crucial role of Ace Migration in the success of our visa application, due to their continuous expert and valued handling of the process. We thank them for all the assistance and support they provided.

We would recommend David and Jenny da Costa and their company, to anyone seeking a professional team who operate under the highest standards of ethics and integrity in the provision of immigration assistance.

Yours faithfully

Robyn W & Michael J
